A DRY GOODS ESTABLISHMENT ON FIRE. About 7 o'clock yesterday morning smoke was discovered issuing from the cellar of M. Bach's dry goods store, on Market street, and the alarm of fire , was given. The family sleep in the back part of the store, but they were not up at the ime, and the first they knew of the danger was the knocking at the front door. They dressed hastily and removed to a place of safety. The fire engines were at the fire in a few minutes, and poured such a volume of water into the cellar that the fire could make no headway, and was soon extinguished. Water to the depth of four or five feet, thrown from the engines, is now in the cellar. Some water was forced into the store to the stock.

Mr. Bach estimated his stock at $4,000, and it s probably damaged to the extent of $2,000 or upwards. He is insured in the Messrs. Tyler's agency-the Delaware Co., we believe-to the full amount. Mr. Bach was about moving from his present store to engage in business with Bach & Horzog, on Main street. It is not known how the fire originated. The efficiency of the fire engines were ully tested upon this occasion .-With hand engines the building and its contents would certainly have been destroyed, and perhaps those adjoining. The fire engines were on the spot in less than ten minutes, and the great quantity of water they poured on the flames soon ubdued it.

NEW ALBANY & SALEM RAILROAD,-No railroad in the West, at this time, is more complete in those arrangements which combine comfort, safety, and punctuality, than the New Albany and Salem Railroad. A few years since, while laboring under those difficulties which have attended nearly every project of the kind in the country this road did not occupy a favorable position in public esteem. But under the new regime, so its operations in detail, that it now entirely comnands the confidence of the traveling public. Mr. R. E. Ricker, the Superintendent, is a No. officer, and he employs those only whose habits, skill, and competency are beyond cavil, and that some others may pattern by; and to these things, in a measure, may be attributed its vast increase of travel within a year past. There are three trains per day, connecting with the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad for St. Louis and all other points in the West. The agency in this city is at 550 Main street, where Major A. B. Barker, the courteous and efficient agent, will afford all information desired by travelers.

hence the rarity of accidents of magnitude on the road. It is in fact in many respects a railroad

FAILING'S ARCTIC PANORAMA -- Aside from the merits of the panorama as a work of art, its greatest charm is in its novelty; not that panoramas are by any means uncommon, but because it faithfully portrays a portion of the world which few have ever seen. Here we have our easons with all their agreeable variety; but there it is winter, stern, cold, cruel winter, all the time. The long and shuddering night which extends over half the year is only relieved by a day of equal length, the light of which renders the desolation of the scene more apparent .-These moving mountains of ice, though chilling to the touch, sparkle in the eye like mighty dianonds, as they send back all the variegated hues from the glancing beams of the sun.

All who have visited it that we have seen, do not hesitate to pronounce it one of the most pleasing entertainments of the kind ever given in this city. This is the last week it will remain in Louisville. On Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, there will be an exhibition for children, at 10 cents apiece.

Professor Brittan continues his truly phisophical lectures at the Masonic Temple, on the aws of life and the curiosities of mind, as develpped under the magnetic or physical spell, and the eemingly miraculous agency whereby it holds ominion over all the powers of sense and thoughts. The Professor certainly appears to have a rational and comprehensive philosophy of the whole subject, and he proposes to induct others into its sublime mysteries. Dr. Stone, who has been a successful operator ooth in this country and Europe, follows the Proessor with a great number and variety of surrising and humorous experimental illustrations, roduced on the minds of total strangers, clearly emonstrating the cardinal principles of the philoophy so clearly set forth in the lectures. Perhaps here is no place where so much instruction and musement are so equally combined as at the Masonic Temple, every night this week.

ABOUT THE JAIL. - There was not a single arrest esterday, and there are fewer prisoners in the ail now than at any other time since the present acumbent conducted its affairs. In the absence of business the jailer amuses himself by seeing the terriers kill the rats which the prisoners inreigle into a barrel, which serves the purpose of Yesterday morning, while the firemen were ngaged in subduing the fire at the store of M. Bach, on Market street, the proprietors of the Naional Hotel very cleverly furnished them with coffee, which, of course, stimulated them to renewed efforts. The firemen desire us to return thanks to the proprietors of the National for their timely consideration.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS AT WHOLESALE. We invite attention to the advertisement of Anderson, McLane & Co. in this paper. This is an old and well established firm, which, by fair dealing and fair prices, has sucured the confidence of the trade of the South and West. All who wish to purchase goods, staple or fancy, will consult their interest by examining the extensive stock of Anderson, McLane & Co.

THEATER .- Mr. and Mrs. Wallack appear tonight in "Werner, or the Inheritance," one of their sterling pieces, and worthy of the attention of those who admire good acting.

The afterpiece is "Deaf as a Post," in which Scallan and other funny folks will take part.

friend, Wm. Diller, Esq., sold a cargas of Cuba topacco, day before yesterday, for $1 60 per pound, or $160 per hundred. If this don't induce all of our smokers, chewers, and snuffers to go for the acquisition of the island, we don't know what The series of night meetings which have been held for some time past at the Jefferson-street Baptist Church, is still continued with much interest. Rev. Dr. Everts, of the Walnutstreet Church, will preach to-night and to-mor row night.

Professor Brittan had rather a small crowd at his lecture last night at Masonic Temple. Some of the experiments on the human subjects were

TERRIBLE TAXATION. - The Solomon of the Louisville Journal speaks exultingly of the contrast between taxation in Know Nothing Louisville trast between taxation in Know Nothing Louisville and Democratic New York, in which latter city he says $3 are collected for every inhabitant. We must inform the editor that according to the columns of your valuable paper that Hon. James B. good round sum of $590,648 26. Will the editor make $8 per head for every soul in this city, equal to the sum reported by the Auditor as having been paid into the treasury of this city last year. FINED.-Thos. Haydon was fined $10 in the Police Court yesterday for alleged disturbing a Sabbath school, on Jefferson street. According to the testimony of witnesses, about the time the little boys congregated at the Rescue Engine House on Sunday to attend Sabbath school, the room, by which considerable damage was done accused would commence kicking a foot-ball .-This would divert the attention of the youngsters, who naturally preferred foot-ball to that which is holy and better. No reason was assigned why the defendant should wish to disturb the school. As above stated, the jury imposed a fine of ten PRESERVING FRUITS .- Mr. Henry G. Dayton, of Maysville, who has made his name famous by his cans for preserving fruits, has just perfected an invention which should immortalize him. By the simplest contrivance imaginable he exhausts the air from cans and jars, by which means peaches, and indeed every kind of fruits and vegtables, can be kept as fresh as when gathered from the tree or vine for any required length of time. Specimens of fresh fruits presered by this process can be seen this morning at the store of P. M. Jones, Fourth street.

ANOTHER RESIGNATION .- James L. Clark, Esq., who got the nomination of the Democratic Convention for the office of Treasurer, has declined to make the race. He will devote his time during the coming canvass to teaching school instead of making stump speeches. His resignation will make it necessary for the convention of perfect has been its management generally, and next Saturday night to provide three new nominations -- one for Mayor, one for Tax Collector in the Western District, and one for Treasurer. If there are to be any other resignations, let us have them at once, so that the ticket can be fixed up.

THE WEATHER-CONTINUED .- Since our last isue, the subject of this notice has been experinced in all its disagreeable varieties. The weather for the last twenty-four hours may be beautiully and graphically described by a short poem written by James Gordon Bennett, author of "Mary Ann" and other girls. He threw off the gem in his early manhood. Here it is:

First it blew,
Then it snew,
Then it friz,
Then it thew,
And then it didn't.

The Journal man speaks of our "superb owldered roads, which will compare with any in the country." Has the editor any reference to Broadway? If so, we agree with him that in knavery and outrage upon the people and the city, this "superb bowldered road" will compare with any in the country. We should like to know the full cost of the repairs there of late, and to whom all the money is paid.

Boy MURDER .- We learn from the New Harmony Ind.) Advertiser that on Wednesday last Wesley Stalling and Frank Stillwell, two school boys, living near that town, quarreled about some trifling matter, when the former drew a knife and stabbed the latter in the heart, causing his death in less than five minutes.

CAPT. J. M. MARTIN .- It will be seen by his card in another place, that Capt. Martin cannot make the race for Tax Collector. Shocking Affair.

A telegraphic dispatch announced that four persons, viz: Mrs. Gill, her two children and a servant, were suffocated, and several injured, by a fire in New York City, on Sunday. The Times of Monday says:

The fire was first discovered soon after 3 o'clock The fire was first discovered soon after 3 o'clock in the morning, by some person passing in the street. Mr. Thos. Gill was the first one in the house who discovered the fire. He immediately aroused his companion and gave the alarm. The inmates all rushed to the stairway, but found their retr-at cut off by the fire in this direction; they could not even descend to the second story. In the excitement of the moment all entered Mrs. Gill's room. Mr. Gill took several blankets and tied them together, and, fastening one end, threw the other out of the window, and lowered himself down, when he missed his held and fell to the frozen ground below. In his fall his head came in contact with an iron fence, and he received a severe scalp wound. He was followed by Mr. Graves, who also fell a portion of the distance and a severe scalp wound. He was followed by Mr. Graves, who also feil a portion of the distance and sprained his ancles. One of the sisters (Keegan) went to the back room about this time, and with some kind of a string lowered herself out of the back window. The cerd was not long enough to reach the ground, and she hung suspended in this position until the nightcap on her head caught fire, when she let go her held and fell into the yard.—One thigh and one arm were broken by the fall, and she received other jojuries. What we have related thus far transpired within a few minutes. Mrs. Gill about this time was seen at the window imploring for help. The blanket rope still hung out of the window, but she could not be induced to take hold of it. A fireman at this time seized [For the Louisville Courier.]

At a meeting of the Cerporators of the Kentucky River Navigation Company, held at the court house in Lexington, on Friday, the 8th, 1859, Judge R. C. Graves, of Woodford county, was unanimously elected chairman, and George Stealey, of the city of Louisville, secretary.

The meeting was then called to order, and its object briefly stated by the chair.

Gen. Leslic Combs, Judge W. C. Goodloe, and Judge Daniel Breck, advocated their views of the importance, necessity and value of the proposed improvement of the Kentucky river.

When, on motion of Judge Goodloe, the following resolutions were adopted:

Horrible Matricide.—One of the most shocking and unnatural crimes which has disgraced our city since the Gouldy butchery, was enacted in Elizabeth street this morning. A young woman attacked her mother with an axe, which she buried in her skull, for the purpose of obtaining the paltry sum of fifty-five dollars. Officer Wade, of the Fourteenth Ward, was patrolling his beat about half-past five this morning, when he heard the cry of murder, followed by stiffed groans. He rushed into the house from whence the cries proceeded, No. 251 Elizabeth street, in the rear, and saw an aged colored woman lying on the floor covered with blood and an axe buried in her skull. A young woman was standing over her, who had been stiffing her groans with bed-clothes. Medical assistance was immediately called and the young woman arrested. She was conveyed to the Essex market prison, and gave the name of Anna Maria Bosley Cajay. She confessed the crime.—

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Louisville Journal on City Affairs. Late last week we got hold of the recent report of the Auditor of Louisville, and on Monday last called the attention of our readers to some errors in it, which we considered outrageous in an official document intended to set forth the financial condition of the city. We did not point out a decimal part of the errors we discovered in this report, but disclosed enough, as we thought, to open the eyes of our Mayor, Councilmen, etc., to ne character of the document and the true condition of affairs. We did this as an act of public duty, after seeing that the officials whose duty it is to look into such matters seemel to us not to care whether the report were right or wrong.

Our criticism upon the Auditor's report seem to have been exceedingly offensive to the editor of the Louisville Journal. He has not dared to say that we made a single mistake in the errors to which we called attention. But in an article of yesterday, nearly a column in length, he praises the Know Nothing management of city affairs in general and in particular, not failing to laud in especial terms its financial condition. Our critiism was specific and not designed to touch any thing but the Auditor's report, but if the editor of the Journal wants a discussion in general upon city affairs, as conducted by his Know Nothing brethren, he can have it. It might prove difficult for the Know Nothing organ to explain to the tax-payers why it was that a Democratic engineer refused to receive the bowldering of Broadway, and why a Know Nothing engineer did receive it after he came into office, and why that bowldering is now being repaired at a cost of something like $10,000 to the city. It might prove equally difficult for the organ of Louisville Know Nothingism to explain how it was that our Mayor and Council have entered into contract after contract for opening, to be paid for by the property owners along thos streets and allies, and how it was that the cor tracts were so worded as to empower the propert owners to make the city pay the bills instead o nemselves, to an amount not far short of $50,000 might not be an easy task for the K. N. editor explain why it is that during the rule of hi ren they have increased the assessment of our city property from $23,000,000 to $28,000,000 purposes, and from $31,060,000 to $36,000,000 for railroad purposes, while but little property has been selling for any price, and while it has been the bitter experience of many that their property had really declined in value while their rulers were putting a higher price upon it. And we are sure it would not be east or the editor, in defending the economical administration of his brethren, to account for the fol lowing table of taxes for 1858, which certainly eclipses anything of the kind ever known in the days of Democratic economy, and suggests that 1859 may eat us all up with taxes:

Ad Valorem Tax......$292,52 Railroad Tax Water Works Tax

There are many difficulties of this kind that we might call upon the great champion of Louisville Know Nothingism to explain, but, as said before, our criticism on the Auditor's report was specific We have pointed out errors in that report which forbid any laudatory comments upon the inancial condition of the city, and until they are explained or corrected, we want no sadproof of the rottenness of the whole concern. The Auditor's report does not make a satisfactory exhibit of the financial condition of the city, and if the editor of the Journal has any lights outside of that document he will do the community a favor by giving them to the public. It is possible that our Know Nothing officials may have data as to city affairs for adividual use, and data of a different nature for the public. If such is the case, we should not be expected to know anything about the secret data ased among the brethren, while the editor of the Journal would. We hope, therefore, that the editor of the Journal will explain the true financial condition of the city, not from the Auditor's report-which would be an impossibility-but from any secret information he may have had con-

Organize! Organize! The Democratic Convention, held at Frankfort on the 8th of January, appointed district committees, making it one of the duties of said com mittees to appoint county committees for the counties composing their several districts. These county committees, when so appointed, could appoint precinct committees in their several counties, whose duty should be to see that each and every Democrat, in their respective precincts, asts his vote on election days. If this system is carried out in full, it will secure a perfect and effective organization of our party throughout the We earnestly desire to impress upon the minds of our Democratic friends in Kentucky the vital mportance of a perfect organization of our party t is true that we have a large majority in the Commonwealth, but large majorities not unfrequently operate against a party. Many men are apt to regard success as certain, and thinking at one vote will make no difference, stay away from the polis. This is not the way to retain a ajority, won by so hard a struggle as attended the ascendency of the Democratic party in Kentucky. "Eternal vigilence is the price of liberty." We do not believe that the free-nigger sym pathizers in Kentucky will be able to bring into the political field a ticket which will challenge or engage the serious attention of the Democratic party. Yet we as a party should not become careless and indifferent. Let us keep our arms ournished and our "eyes right," so as to be able to bring into the field at a moment's warning nocratic forces in a solid, unshaken colmn. Our foe, though in point of numbers cone.nptible, is wily and treacherous. A desperate attempt will be made to retain the present Oppo ition majority in the State Senate. The fag end of all the isms will combine, but the combination will be unavailing, unless favored by the apathy of the Democracy. Let us have a complete organzation and a fair fight, and our majority in August will be so large that it will bury the Opposiion so deep that this generation will not witness

XXXVth CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION. Wednesday's Proceedings Washington, D. C., February 9th.—Senate.— There was but little business of importance transacted during the morning hour, excepting that Mr. King's (of N. Y.) resolution to inquire into the working of the reciprocity to the working of the reciprocity treaty and the ex-

the working of the reciprocity treaty and the expediency of its abrogation, was adopted.

Mr. Bayard moved to reconsider the vote by which the Pennsylvania Avenue Railroad bill was yesterday defeated. Agreed to.

House.—The Speaker laid before the House a reply from the Secretary of the Treasury to a resolution asking why the construction of the Baltimore custom house had been delayed. The reply states that he has postponed the construction of all the authorized public buildings and plans on railroad buildings which had not been commenced prior to the late revulsion, owing to the insufficiency of money in the treasury, and will cont.nue to act on the rule until Congress provides the money to meet the liability or otherovides the money to meet the liability or other Mr. Harris, of Md., called attention to the fact that Congress several years ago appropriated two hundred thousand dollars for the Baltimore Cus-tom House, with unmistakable instructions. The reasons assigned by the Secretary is untenable, and especially, as it is recollected that when the last Congress adjourned, there was a surplus of twenty millions in the treasury, five millions of which he had necessarily applied to the redemption of Government securities at sixteen and a half per centum premium. half per centum premium. Mr. Phelps, of Mo., justified the reasons assign and the secretary, saying that as no valid compact had been entered into, the execution of the law might properly be extended to a future time. considering the present condition of the treasury, Mr. Harris, of Md., moved to refer the comparison of the companion Mr. Harris, of Md., moved to refer the communication to the Committee of Ways and Means, with instructions to report a bill authorizing two hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. Curry, of Alabama, moved a substitute instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to report a bill repealing all laws authorizing the constructing of custom houses, postoffices, and court buildings, where no contracts have been made. The Speaker ruled the motion out of order.

Mr. Harris's motion was then agreed to.
The House resumed the consideration of the amendments reported from the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union to the executive judicial, and legislative appropriation bill.

From Washington. Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—The Navy Department is in receipt of official advices from the coast of Africa, announcing the visit, search, scizure, and burning of an Amercan vessel by a Brit-ish cruizer. The following is a statement of the affair made by Peter Calinda, one of the crew of the burned vessel: "I shipped on the American brig Rufus Soule, on the 9th of July, and sailed, as I understood, for Fernando Po. Just sighted Capede Verd islands, and the nextland we made was the African coast near to Banda Point.

Soon after, we saw a steamer coming toward us and she sent a boat. The captain of the steamer Viper and another officer with him came aboard. They asked for papers and mustered the crew, and questioned all about where we belonged. I was at the wheel, and heard the captain of the Viper tell Capt. Anderson that he would give him one hour to make up his mind, and if he did not deliver his vessel he would take her in tow and deliver his vessel he would take her in tow and deliver his vessel he would take her in tow, and the captain returned on board his own vessel, leaving the other officer with us. In half an hour the order was given for the English to open the hatches. I then saw, for the first time, that our flee her hearled down to the first time, that our flag had been hauled down.

The English officer then waved his handkerchief The English officer then waved his handkerchief to the Viper, and the captain of the steamer came on board. The hatches were opened and he then ordered us all to get our clutches ready to go on board the steamer. Afterwards they brought from the brig all her sails and small stores. The brig was set on fire about 7 o'clock in the evening, and was burning all night. In the morning several shots were fired at her before going down. I heard it said by some of the crew of the Viper that she was burned because they had no men to send away in her, and that they had orders to that she was burned because they had no men to send away in her, and that they had orders to burn one out of every three vessels taken.

We got under way in the afternoon, and were landed on the beach at Kabenda. The correspondence between the commander of the Vincennes and the captain of the Viper shows that the American flag was flying at the time of the seizure, and that the captain threw his papers overboard when called upon to show them. The circumstances of the case leave little room to doubt cumstances of the case leave little room to doubt that she was a slaver.

From New York. From New York.

New York, Feb. 9.—A horrible tradegy occurred in the rear of Elizabeth street yesterday morning. A mulatto girl, about 20 years of age, named Anna Maria Bosley Cojay, made a brutal attempt to take the life of her inother while the latter was lying asleep in bed. The matricide buried an axe in the head of her parent, and then endeavored to strangle her with some pillows and bedding. Plunder was the motive which actuated the ding. Plunder was the motive which actuated the daughter in thus attempting to destroy her moth-er. From St. Louis. Sr. Louis, Feb. 9.—The Sioux City Register otices the arrival of Major Culberton direct from he head waters of the Missouri, who reports the discovery of gold diggings on the divide between the Missouri and Columbia rivers, in the neigh-borhood of Stevens' Pass. This gold is inferior in quality, being worth only $14 or $15 to the ounce, but is said to exist in great abundance. Major Culberton brought down $1200 in gold lumps of the size of a grain of corn. He says these mines can be approached to within a comparatively short distance by steamboats. He also says that the head waters of the above named rivers are so close together that he drank from the Missouri on the east side of the Rocky Mountains and in half an hour atterwards drank out of the Columbia on

THE RIVER is gradually receding, with seven feet eight inches water in the channel last even-ing, by the mark. This is a fall of 2 inches at head of the falls in the previous 24 hours, with 5 feet 8 inches pass water, and 4 feet 10 inches feet 8 inches pass water, and 4 feet 10 inches steamboat water. The weather has been as changeable during the past 24 hours as ever was known. It was first raining, then snowing hard, next freezing, and then clear, and very warm, the sun causing almost every vestige of snow to disappear. Next it turned cold, then warm, and finally, in the evening, the wind veered round to the North, blowing a gale, and freezing as hard as at any previous time this winter, in fact converting all nature again into mid winter.

The river at both Pittsburgh and Cincinnati was falling yesterday, with cool weather, though another change to warm again may be looked was falling yesterday, with cool weather, though another change to warm again may be looked

At St. Louis yesterday, the Mississippi was falling, with cold weather, and navigation suspended by ice above that port. The John Raine, as we learn by specia dispatch, left New Orleans Taesday. She will be here in time to return to-morrow week.

The '76 that sunk near Alton, Ohio river still lies on the rocks with the bulk of her freigh removed. The Clifton, from Nashville, relieved her of considerable freight, and the Lightfoot went to her from Cincinnati, and took off a large freight to be returned to Cincinnati to the under

The fast Lightning Line packet, E. H Fair-child, which started from New Orleans with 500 tons, was due last night. She passed Evansville early resterday morning with a good trip.
The E. H. Fairchild is advertised to return to New Orleans this evening. We do not know a better boat or a better crew. Her manifest was published yesterday. The clerk, R. F. Fuller, is one of the most polite and attentive on the river.

Thanks to Capt. Joe Brown, clerk of the Jacob Poe, from Pittsburgh, for a manifest. She has a heavy freight, including a large lot of merchandize and 1,054 kegs of nails, upwards of 3,000 packages of iron, and 176 barrels of clover seed.

The Jacob Poe, in charge of the gallant Capt.
Andrews, is the regular packet for Pittsburgh this evening. She takes freight for the East at the lowest rates.

The Dove, from Kentucky river yesterday, had a heavy freight, including some 3,000 bushels of wheat and 961 kegs of lard. Kentucky river was falling when the Dove came

FOR THE EAST.—The Telegraph No. 8, the long-armed champion of the Ohio, is the mail and passenger packet for the East, at noon to-day. She travels at railroad speed, and connects with all the early trains going East.

ANOTHER DISASTER .- The New Orleans Pica yane of the 3d has the following account of the sinking of a boat in Mobile Bay:

We learn that on Friday morning the Ravenswood, which runs regularly between Mobile and Stockton with the mails and passengers, when on her way from Stockton down, about 10 A. M., struck on a snag or bar, and sunk to her guards in about twelve minutes. She was distant some six miles from the Mobile light-house at the time, was running in a fog, and, it is supposed, was out of her course. The Eizz, from Mobile, came to the relief of the Ravenswood, and succeeded in taking off her

The McKee is about to be withdrawn from the Napoleon trade, and enter White river. FOR NEW ORLEANS.—The clipper packet Jas. Montgomery, of the Lightning Line, having been detained, takes her departure to New Orleans this evening. She starts at 5 o'clock, from Portland, in charge of our accomplished and energetic friend, Capt. Jas. B. Russell, ably assisted in the office by Jas. A. Lowry, one of the best and most attentive clerks on the river.

The staunch and comfortable packet J. C. Swon, having been detained, shipping her cargo, takes her departure to New Orleans this evening. She goes from Portland, in charge of our courteous friend Capt. Jones, with Mr. Lavielle, a cour-teous, attentive clerk, in the office.

Mr. Toombs, of Ga., proceeded to reply to Mr. Bigler's speech of yesterday, and went over it, section by section. After showing that the first ree of banishment from the Vigilance Comparagraph of the resolution merely expressed a truism, that it is inexpedient in time of peace to incur a large public debt—the truism, however, depending on whether the debt be of casual or A rich silver mine has been discovered in Santa Clara County. The season is regarded as unprofit

Toombs proceeded to demonstrate that it is not only avoidable, but ought to be avoided; that there is not only no necessity to keep the present expenditures at their present standard, but that the present tariff is ample to meet the just and proper expenses of the Government. The Secretary of the Treasury's estimates for the expenditures inding a revenue exceeding the expenditures; finding a revenue of $50,000,000, and an expenditure of $48,000,000. The tariff and an expenditure of $48,000,000. The tariff was reduced without any party discussion Massachusetts and South Carolina, the extremes of sectionalism, unmiting to do it. He did not purpose, by his vote on the tariff of 1857, to cripple any branch of the public service. He did not propose to do it now. The country is able to bear any amount of legitimate burdens—but he did propose to require the government to confine it-self to its legitimate service, not for the mere reason of curtailing expenses, but for the better object of avoiding corruption, and of making the country great and able for future action, either in we have no extraordinary occasion, no war, except the Indian struggles, which we always have; hence no occasion for increased expenditures ex-ists. The tariff was put on with the deliberate onsideration of the Government and people, and consideration of the Government and people, and it has done what it was expected it would do, not-withstanding the falling off in receipts during the time of mercantile depression. It is not the tariff, but the estimates that are fallacious. The but the estimates that are fallacious. The large of the control of the mutations of commerce and otherwise, and to restrict the creations of new lights to such as shall be reported favorably by the Light House Postoffice has absolved nearly $9,000,000 of the deficiency over the estimate. Further, the estimates assume that every dollar of appropriations, ot only of the present, but past years, will be re-uired for the fiscal years 1859 and 1860. He nowed that the estimates were framed to exhibit a deficiency, for it is impossible that all these appropriations can be laid out within one year. Yet, farther, to force a deficiency, the public lands were not offered, as it was the duty of Government to offer them for sale. Had the proceeds of seventy or eighty millions of acres of surveyed lands been brought into the Treasury, there would not have been one dollar of deficiency. Were the Psstoflice expenditures reduced within proper limits, there would be no deficiency, but instead of these retrenchments, the expense swelled into extravagance to create a defic vitable. The Senator from Pennsylvania says the Gov nment is in distress from shortness of revenue. and he proceeds to remedy it by putting on new burdens, by bringing up the revenue to the ex-penditures. Now, he, Mr. Toombs, wanted to bring the expenditures down to the revenue.— Both the Legislative and Executive branches have departed from the original track, and by their action have fostered these corrupt 'extrava ancies in the army, navy, and the departments t is true that we must maintain an army, a navy and a postoffice, and must take care of our Indians and a postoffice, and must take care of our Indians; but we have no need of any army, except to keep in subjection the Indian savages, for we depend upon freemen to perpetuate freedom. Nor, have we any need to compete with the armies of England, France, Prussia, or Austria. England has to keep an army to hold her possessions. We stand on a different principle. If we get possession of a country we true it lease again to a country we true it lease again to a country we true it lease again true; it is a superfect to the control of the country we true it lease again to a country we have it lease again t ion of a country we turn it loose, and trust it to efend itself. Hence, we want only army enough to keep the Indians in check, and navy enough t in the estimates of 1860, which is said to be in the pirates from our coasts. eep the pirates from our coass.

Five years since our army cost $9,000,000, now costs $18,000,000, and although then we had nore struggling settlements to be defended, an and not then California and Oregon, with the more to man it now. The two and a half millions increase in cost does not pay Jack one extra shilling a month, nor give him one more glass of grog. France, with her large navy of steamships, expends on it $24,000,000 per annum. We expend $13,000,000 on ours, yet the true policy of preparing for war is to build up the resources of the property of the property of preparing for war is to build up the resources. of the nation in time of peace; not to squander the public means. We prepare for war by in creasing the ability of the people to bear it. We can turn all the people into soldiers when the Republic is in danger. Europe uses her armies to oppress her people. They need great armies there; we need a great people.

Mr. Toombs then replied to that portion of Mr Bigler's speech, in which he set forth the benefits derived by the Southern States from the posta service. He argued at great length on the necessity of making the post office self-sustaining. I is unjust to levy the deficiency of postage out of the public treasury. It is no more than plundering pence from the poor for the benefit of the rich. The Government indeed has no more ablute obligation to carry the correspondence the country, than its hay, corn, or cotton, and he believed that the mail to the Pacific could be carried by other means for $200,000. The Pacific mail has fallen under the guidance of public rease the duty on iron, he, Mr. Toombs, could, by no means assent to it. He would rather have t free. He would not assent to tax the transporation of the country and of the great West, and would raise no revenue by imposing burdens on one article that would react as a tax on seven-eighths of the industry of the country. His opinion was that specific duties were the best mode of taxation. Thirteen years' experience had satisfied him of the correctness of that opinion. He had given all the protection he agree or in the protection had satisfied him of the correctness of that opinion. given all the protection he ever can give. Forty years ago our manufacturers were feeble, and they have been built up by a system which is not pplicable to their present growth. In conclusion, e referred to elaborate statistical tables showing hat retrenchment is the only remedy.

The subject was then postponed.

Mr. Hunter, of Virginia, attempted to bring up the Consular and Diplomatic appropriation bill.

Mr. Slidell, of Louisiana, was equally as anxious to bring up the Cuba question.

A lengthy debate ensued in which the leading Republican Senators expressed themselves against taking up the Cuba bill, although they were ready at any time to discuss all its bearings.

Messrs. Seward, Wilson, Doolittle and Hale ade some hard hits at the Democratic party, and suggested, as a legitimate project of aggran-dizement, to purchase the Canadas, erect defenses at the mouth of the St. Lawrence, and thus econnise the cost of armaments on the lakes. Mr. Wilson, of Mass., reminded the Senate that nly 19 days remained for action. Measures of nportance were pending, among them, the comestead bill, one of the best measures ever of-med. Congress should reduce the expenditures at lest $10,000,000, and provide the means to meet The time should be devoted to business, not sames debate.

Several other Senators participated in the dis-

Several other Senators participated in the discussion, and finally, the Cuban bill was taken up by a vote of 27 yeas to 19 nays.

Mr. Slidell, of La., by consent, made a textual correction of the clause in the bill providing for 5 per cent. bonds payable semi-annually.

Mr. Doolittle, of Wis., considered that the two great questions in the progression of the age which cannot be escaped are the Anglo-American and the African-American. He concluded his remarks by offering a substitute for the Cuba bill and the African-American. He concluded his remarks by offering a substitute for the Cuba bill, to the effect that $50,000,000 be appropriated to enable the President to purchase in Yucatan, Central or South America territory, on which a free-negro nation can be located under guarantee of the United states.

The Senate adjourned, agreeing to meet, after Monday next, at 11 A. M.

HOUSE.—The House concurred in striking out the following amendments: $200,000 for mileage of members and delegates to the House for the next year; $10,000 for furniture, repairs, and packing boxes for members; nearly $73,000 for the Congressional Globe, binding the same, and reporting Congressional proceedings. The House also cut off $100,000 for workmen and adjusters of the San Francisco mint; reduced the appropriation of the New York Assay Office from $45,000 to $22,000; the appropriation for workmen at the New Orleans mint was reduced to $15,000; the demand of $225,000 for the purchase of property in New York eiter war head of the same frame the New York eiter was head of the same frame the New York eiter was head of the same frame the New York eiter was head of the New York eiter was head of the same frame the New York eiter was head of the Property in New York eiter was head of the York eiter was h

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, WEDNESDAY EVENING, February 9, 1859. There has been an immense mass The market, though geneaally firm for all the lead neeting of Hebrews and Protestants to express adignation at the abduction of the Jewish boy articles of trade, is very much unsettled, and prices fluctuating, though holders manifest much firmness for onfined to the immediate demand for plantations, as buyers regard the prices as entirely too high. The stock of Pork in New York continues heavy, and prices there are much lower than they are here, which of course, checks shipments to that quarter. The sup plies of Groceries continue heavy, with brisk sales at full prices, and the market very firm. The receipts of Leaf Tobacco are generally increasing, though still rather light, which is chiefly attributable to the excessive bad roads, not our streets-they are always badbut the country roads, the soft weather and occasiona rosts making the roads worse than have been known A terrific storm occurred at Honolulu on the for ten years.
